Square 9® Softworks Presents 2nd Annual Encompass End User & Reseller Conference

Encompass 2016 Offers Insight into Product Strategy, Solutions Selling and Customer Efficiency

NEW HAVEN, CONN., October 11, 2016 – With progressive vision into the direction of business process management and capture technologies, Square 9® Softworks welcomes its dedicated dealer channel and their customers back to Encompass 2016, a conference unlike any traditional industry event.

Being held in Clearwater Beach, FL, from October 11-13th, Encompass 2016 provides attendees the opportunity to better understand the direction of ECM technology that will bring their organizations to the next level. Reseller and End User communities will gain exclusive insight into what's next from Square 9, including product innovation and strategy, with a significant focus dedicated to Square 9's next generation document capture automation engine, GlobalCapture® – transforming content into high-value information.

Encompass attendees will experience a number of helpful and intuitive high-level speaking presentations, from customer tracks designed for organizations to work faster, smarter and more productively, to Reseller Business and Technical tracks that enhance skills in workflow automation and discuss successful approaches to solutions selling.

"Encompass has grown significantly from last year, with more dedicated sponsors, a wider audience of Resellers, several more end users in attendance, and education tracks specifically crafted to fit the agenda of every attendee within our community," said Stephen Young, Square 9 President & CEO. "Not to mention bringing together some of the most talented Office Technology solutions providers in the industry for three days of networking and idea sharing."

Unique to Encompass 2016, Square 9 also added a Reseller Recertification Track, designed for previously certified technicians and includes a fast moving series of courses to enhance the Reseller's understanding of both web administration and capture automation processes. A certificate will be presented upon completion of requirements.

Beyond education, this conference gives attendees the opportunity to utilize the Square 9 technical team, allowing them to consult the experts, explore the latest product features, as well as receive demo set ups and upgrades. Square 9 developers will be on hand to present programming and non-programming methodologies for each custom application.
