The Cannata Report's 34th Annual Awards & Charities Dinner*Square 9 Recognized by Dealer Community in Cannata's 2019 Annual Dealer Survey

NEW HAVEN, CONN., November 15, 2019 – The Cannata Report, a leading media resource in the office products and workflow solutions industry, celebrated its 34th Anniversary Awards & Charity Dinner. This year Square 9 was presented with the award for Best ECM/Document Management Software Provider of 2019. The award is based on The Cannata Reports Annual Dealer Survey, which represents a significant number of office equipment dealers across the United States.

The Cannata Report has been evaluating the strength of independent dealers via their Annual Dealer Survey, emphasizing the sales and technology side of the business for the past 34 years. The Cannata Awards & Charities Dinner was started to raise money for community hospitals and other charitable organizations. Each year industry leaders gather from the Print and Solutions industries for a single night, to recognize the organizations their readers believe to be among the best. This year's prestigious event netted $295,000 for Tackle Kids Cancer, a philanthropic program benefiting the Children's Cancer Institute at Hackensack Meridian Health.

The award for Best ECM/Document Management Software Provider was presented to Square 9 by Janene Aul, Cara Spencer and Jacqueline Smith of Systel Business Equipment and accepted by Square 9's Joseph Hartnett, Vice President of North American Sales. "Square 9 is proud to be honored by The Cannata Report due to the results of their 2019 Annual Dealer Survey," said Stephen Young, President & CEO of Square 9 Softworks. "This award is by far the most meaningful to us as it represents Square 9's efforts to best serve our partners," Young continued.

Subscribers can view the 2019 survey results at TheCannataReport.com from September through October and in The Cannata Report's September and October Special Annual Dealer Survey Issues.
